Hello Everyone!!

Wow!! Here it is June already...our normal Premier month.

I know we all had to scramble when UKC changed the date and location, but they had outgrown the other facility. UKC is just getting bigger and better :-)

Don't forget that UKC Premier is pre-entry only. Deadline is June 9th at 4:30. Enter ASAP so if there is any mistakes you have time to correct them.

For Standard poodles, there is a Gundog Specialty Thursday Afternoon. Their pre-entry ends June 16th.

Also, pre-order of Catalogs deadline is June 9th

My Hubby commented that we will be home for Fathers day.....Plus the dogs can attend the Scottish Festival and eat Haggis that weekend.

Thank you all that mailed in election ballots. I think there are more than 25 that were received.

The Annual Meeting is Monday June 7. 9-10 PM EST Phone conference

We will be electing new officers and tying up loose ends for our Specialty show.

Member Activities con't.....

from Michelle Golding of Sandpipers Poodles...

My grand daughter Megan said to say.....

“Hello from Italy.”

She is having a wonderful time and our standard Multi Colored Poodle boy....."Freckles" aka UKC Grand Champion Sandpipers Hearts On Fire. Freckles is the ONLY multi colored standard poodle in the area.

He is allowed to go into the restaurants and coffee shops there! He went to Venice and rode on the gondolas too! He rides on the trains and is a big hit with everyone there who meets him.

My granddaughter says he is a little afraid of the tiny old Italian ladies because they run up to him in the market place speaking Italian and he doesn't understand the language there yet !

Megan & Freckles will be there for the next 4 years and she said he will probably come back bi-lingual ! But she and Freckles are having a great time. She misses showing and seeing all her friends at the shows. She is most sad about not getting to go to Premier with me this year, but said she and Freckles wishes everyone a wonderful time and hope every one wins something.

Oh Megan also said you can go to Face book & look at all the pictures of Italy they have taken already. Look up Megan Elizabeth Duck (Or go to her mother's page; Leah Duck.) and become her friend. You can follow their journey over the next 4 years.

Getting Freckles off the plane. It was a long flight!

It's that time of year when many of us are on the road with our poodles. Often when we climb into the car to set off on a trip the first thing we do is buckle our seat belt. In fact many of us do this out of habit since it is the law in most states. At times like this, do you give thought to where your poodle is in your car?

An energetic poodle/pet moving around in a car can not only distract the driver, it can also cause an accident. In a collision even the smallest dog can become a missile, potentially flying into the car windshield, passengers and the driver. Unrestrained pets can interfere with vehicle operations, can be thrown about the car and/or ejected from a vehicle during a crash. Protective pets who are loose in a vehicle can also prevent rescue operations of their owners who might be injured as the result of a crash. If pets become frightened and loose because of a car accident they can bolt into traffic, get hit or cause other traffic hazards.

Just as children are safest in the rear seat, your poodle should be there as well, secured in a crate, carrier or pet safety harness.

It's also a good idea to keep a pet safety kit in your vehicle. Pets who are passengers in cars involved in auto accidents usually end up in shelters when their owners are hospitalized. Often rescue personnel have no idea who else to call. Kits can include emergency identification for your pet, animal's name, vet or other contacts who could be responsible in case of emergency.

Whatever type of pet restraint you choose to use in your vehicle be assured that it can make a difference. Giving thought to this issue can save not only your pet but can also be the choice that could help save your life. Remember unrestrained pets in cars can not only cause accidents, they can also hamper rescue efforts.

To the most wonderful poodle ever.I will miss you son.

PRACTICAL POODLE POSTSCRIPT.....

May is "Be Kind to Animals Month."

This is a month to not only show above and beyond love for own Poodles but also to all animals.

The opportunities are endless.

- Donate a bag of food to a shelter or rescue or to someone who is currently out of work.
- Foster an available Poodle until a forever home is found.
- Help a new Poodle owner by mentoring.
- Groom for free a poodle/pet in need.
- Set up a financial grant at your vet clinic to help the deserving.

Many times opportunities present themselves, other times we need to look beyond our day to day schedules and allow for a time of giving.

Pass on the kindness!

If members have ideas for future practical poodle postscripts be sure to share your suggestions with the newsletter staff
